MOONDUST PIXIES FORMING UNION

Coordinator answers a question

We figured this is the time. Under virulently anti-union Republicans, too many hurdles.

Funny thing, we have our own Republicans, trying to sabotage the effort and conferring hourly with management. And our own liberal Democrats, wanting to smash things up rather than negotiate with what they call Plutocrats.

The latter want to throw dust everywhere; the former just a pinch. So, that follows historically, I guess.

Oh well, we'll reconcile. Stranger factions have.
